MURDER IS CHARGED.

Complaint Made Against Johnson Family Saturday.

MRS. HICKS THE COMPLAINANT

Both Complaints Refer Only to the Murder of Mrs. Maggie Benjamin Johnson and Do Not Include Little Annie Benjamin.

On Saturday Bigler Johnson, Chas. Johnson, Nancy Johnson and Alanson Johnson were brought before Justice Orcutt on the charge of murder, and a separate complaint charges Mrs. Sophia Merritt with the same offense. The complainant in both cases is Mrs. Susan Hicks, the sister of Mag Benjamin Johnson, the wife of Bigler Johnson, and whom the prosecution alleges was murdered at her home in Asylum township on the night of Sept. 18 and the house afterwards set fire to.

The Johnson family were brought to the justice's office, Bigler and Charley being handcuffed together. The other prisoners were not handcuffed. Justice Orcutt read the complaints. The first alleges that Bigler Johnson, Charles Johnson, Nancy Johnson and Alanson Johnson "did on Sept. 18, wilfully, deliberately, feloniously and of malice aforethought, kill and murder Maggie B. Johnson, contrary to the form of the statute of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

The second complaint is identical with the first with the exception that Mrs. Sophia Merritt is the person charged with the crime of the murder of Maggie B. Johnson. W. P. Wilson, representing the defendants for Lilley & Wilson, pleaded not guilty to all the charges on behalf of the prisoners. He called attention to the fact that no mention was made of Annie Benjamin, the other person whom the prosecution had alleged was murdered, and asked what the intention of the Commonwealth was in her case. Mr. Maxwell, attorney for the prosecution, did not give any information on that score.

The prisoners were then taken to the jail again and formal warrants for their arrests on the charge of murder were made out and have been served on each one of the defendants. They are already in jail awaiting their appearance before the grand jury on the charge of arson. The grand jury begins its sessions on Nov. 21.

FOUND HOUSE IN FLAMES.

Family of Mr. Flannery of Sayre Were Visiting in Towanda.

The home of Michael Flannery of Sayre was destroyed by fire on Saturday morning at an early hour. The family of Mr. Flannery were visiting in Towanda at the time and according to the Athens News that the wife and four children were away at the time is the only thing that prevented one or more deaths.

About 2 o'clock in the morning a neighbor noticed a blaze from his window and discovered that the Flannery home was on fire. He kicked open a door and rushed in the bedroom where he found Flannery and awakened him. Mr. Flannery succeeded in saving some clothing but nearly everything else was destroyed. The house was completely gutted.

Death of Caleb J. Chaffee.

Caleb J. Chaffee, at one time a resident of Warren Center, this county, died at Binghamton on Nov. 10, aged 10, aged 90 years. He was for a number of years engaged in the lumber business in Owego and was also for a long period superintendent of the poor of Tioga county, N. Y. Besides the wife, one daughter, Mrs. George H. Pratt of Binghamton, survives. Deceased was the oldest member of Friendship Lodge, No. 153, F. & A. M., of Owego. Funeral services were held at Owego on Saturday and interment made in Evergreen cemetery at that place.

Dinner at Quarry Glen.

A dinner was given at the Quarry Glen club house on Friday evening by George W. Kipp of this place in honor of C. H. Jennings of Jennings, Md., according to an arrangement made while the gentlemen were away on their trip to attend the Masonic conclave at San Francisco. The guests at the dinner included the men who went on the trip and a few others were also invited. A very pleasant time was had.

Fine Show Cases.

M. Hendleman is installing some very handsome and commodious show cases and has also purchased a new set of fine jewelry and watch trays. Additional shelving will be put in to give much needed display space. New paper and paint make the appearance of the store very attractive.

SENATOR EDMISTON HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thrown From Road Cart by Force of a Collision.

State Senator Robert S. Edmiston had a narrow escape from serious injury on Thursday evening as he was driving to his home at Milan from Athens. Between 5 and 6 o'clock when near Green's Landing he turned out to pass a vehicle. The hub of one wheel of Mr. Edmiston's road cart struck the other wagon which was standing by the road. As the horse was going at a good pace the force of the collision was sufficient to throw Mr. Edmiston forward with his head between the shaft and the rapidly revolving wheel.

The horse became frightened and began to run but before going many rods obeyed the shrill command of his master to stop. A party of Athens hunters who were returning home saw the accident and hurriedly ran to Mr. Edmiston's assistance. He was extricated from his perilous position not much the worse for his experience than a shaking up.

BACK TO DAWSON.

Fred S. McFarline Returned Safely to the Land of Gold.

A Towanda friend of Fred S. McFarline, the Towanda young man who is in the men's furnishing business at Dawson, Yukon territory, has received a letter which tells of his safe arrival there. The night before Mr. McFarline arrived home his store narrowly escaped destruction by fire and the clerks had moved nearly all the goods. Mr. McFarline was badly damaged in a fire some time ago, the lack of fire protection in that place making it necessary to cart all goods out and in the snow and wet they got badly soiled. The letter did not state whether this time he will lose much.

Mr. McFarline wrote entertainingly of his trip through the west and his journey by ocean from Seattle to Skaguay which takes five days. Mr. McFarline saw Rev. Harry Corser at Fort Wrangel but did not happen to see Jule A. Mason who with his family live there also.

BURNS CAPTURED.

Man Suspected of Robbing Little Residence Arrested.

Harry Burns, the tramp who was released from the Bradford county jail on Sept. 12 and on the morning of Sept. 15 is suspected of having entered the residences of W. E. Little, and U. M. Fell and committing a burglary, was arrested last Wednesday morning by Chief of Police Miller. Burns was recognized at Ayers planing mill where he was drying his shoes. Burns was held in $300 bail before Justice Orcutt on the charge of burglary, on complaint of Mr. Little. There was no evidence against him in the Fell case.

When Burns was released from jail he was given back a peculiar shaped knife by Turnkey Jennings. This knife was found at the Little residence on York avenue after the burglary, having been used to hold back a screen door, evidently that the burglar might make a hasty retreat in case he was discovered. Burns yesterday denied that the knife found was his and that he had been in Towanda the day of the burglary. The police have information that Burns was here at the time in question. Two other tramps, Charles Silver, and Thomas Clack are wanted by the police on suspicion of being with Burns.

HAMILTON—BUTTLES.

Married Quietly at Home of Bride's Parents Here Wednesday.

Miss Blanche Augusta Buttles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Buttles of this place was married last week Wednesday at her home on Pine street to William James Hamilton of Homer, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. A. Houghton, pastor of the Towanda Methodist Episcopal church, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride was dressed in a blue silk traveling suit. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at Homer where Mr. Hamilton will shortly engage in the retail shoe business.

Mr. Hamilton formerly lived in Towanda where he was connected with the Tracy shoe factory as clerk and salesman. Later he was with the well-known Mishawakee company of Indiana. Both he and his bride will have the congratulations and best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Williams—McNeal.

Samuel H. Williams of Laddsburg and Mrs. Abbie McNeal of New Albany, were quietly married at the Methodist Episcopal church parsonage of Towanda, on Friday, by Rev. O. A. Houghton, D. D. Mr. Williams is a veteran of the civil war. He enlisted in '62 under Col. Baier, and participated in the battles of Shiloh, Antietam, Spotsylvania, Gettysburg and the Wilderness.

AGAINST OLEO TRUST.

Farmers of Bradford County Make Earnest Appeal.

WANT OLEO SOLD AS SUCH.

Campaign Being Waged Against the Threatened Repeal of the Grout Bill Which Taxes Colored Oleomargarine 10 Cents a Pound.

The farmers and dairymen of Pennsylvania are again fighting the oleo trust. This time it is not for the purpose of framing a bill providing that oleo must be sold as such and that colored oleomargarine must pay a tax of ten cents per pound, but it is for the purpose of keeping on the statute books of the state an act that provides for these very things. This bill, known as the Grout bill, was earnestly supported by Senators Penrose and the late M. S. Quay and by Congressman C. Fred Wright. The oleo interests want to sell oleo as butter for they can make an immense profit on it at butter prices and at a great deal less than butter prices. The dairymen of Pennsylvania or of any other state cannot hope to prevent the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine as such but they do not propose to have it masquerading as butter and driving good butter out of the market. That the farmers are intent upon this fight to a finish is evident from the action of farmers and dairymen's associations from all over the state.

To Farmers and dairymen of Pennsylvania:

In 1902, after continued efforts on the part of farmers, dairymen, granges and kindred agricultural organizations of the United States the Grout bill was passed. It imposes a tax of 10 cents a pound on colored oleomargarine. This bill was ably seconded by Boies Penrose and the late M. S. Quay.

This law has been in force for a period of about two years, and in this brief time has clearly demonstrated the wisdom of the act, and has proved of great value to the dairying interests, and without the protection of this law it would be impossible for the dairymen to compete with oleomargarine, as the past history of the oleomargarine interests clearly demonstrate that they are unscrupulous in their business methods and are always ready to practice fraud and deception on the unsuspecting consumer.

Some Striking Statistics.

The following extract is quoted from the last annual report of the Pennsylvania Dairy and Food Commissioner:

"The latest figures obtainable show that the farm value of dairy products in Pennsylvania are exceeded by but one state in the Union, aggregating $35,860,110 per annum, and that, according to the last census, there were 32,600 farms in Pennsylvania which derived their principal income from the dairy.

"In 1900, the state had 943,733 dairy cows, and these produced 487,033,818 gallons of milk in one year. The total number of farms in the state, as returned by the last census, is 224,248, and the number reporting dairy products was 200,036, with a total valuation of $35,860,686. The butter made on 159,857 of these farms aggregated 74,221,035 pounds of which amount 51,309,833 pounds were sold by the producers."

By the above figures it will be seen that the dairy interests of Pennsylvania are among our foremost industries, and deserved all honest efforts to protect the same, well knowing the great effort put forth to secure the passage of this wise measure, and not ignoring the strength and activity of the Beef, Cottonseed Oil Trust and Oleomargarine Combine, which have united their efforts, money, and ability to repeal the Grout bill, it behooves all dairymen, granges, farmers' clubs agricultural societies and allied interests to be active in petitioning and writing personal leters to members of the United States Senate, Boies Penrose and Philder C. Knox, and our respective members of Congress, urging them to use all honorable means to defeat any repeal or modification of the wise and just law, commonly known as the "Grout bill."

And this committee, appointed by the Orwell Farmers' club, North Orwell Dairymen's association, The Windham Dairymen's association, The Herrick Dairymen's association, The Warren Dairymen's association and the Litchfield Dairymen's association representing more than 5,000 practical dairymen, do respectfully urge their brother agriculturists to be active in their efforts to combat the Oleo Combine.

WITNESS'S SIGNATURE ALLEGED A FORGERY.

Interesting Hearing Begun Before Register W. J. McCabe.

A hearing was begun before Register William J. McCabe here Monday on a caveat granted to Julia A. Dunn, widow of Nelson Dunn, late of Burlington township, Amanda L. Spencer, a daughter, and others, protesting against the probating of the will of Mr. Dunn on the ground that he was of untestamentary mind when the will was made and that the signature of Bessie Spencer, one of the witnesses, is a forgery.

Mr. Dunn died a short time ago and in his will he leaves a large part of his estate to his grandson, Nelson D. Spencer, provided he pay the estate $600 within five years at interest. The widow is bequeathed $125 annually during her life time and the daughter, Amanad L. Spencer, is given a life interest in a portion of land. The allegation made by the caveators states that Bessie Spencer says that she did not witness the will nor sign her name to it and also alleges that undue influence was urged upon Mr. Dunn in the disposition of his estate. Bessie Spencer is a sister of Nelson Spencer, the grandson, who is given the bulk of the estate, a farm of 100 acres. The other name signed to the will as witness is Beni. Havthorn, a justice of the peace living at Powell.

C. M. Culver, Esq., and William Maxwell, Esq., represent the caveators and D. C. DeWitt, Esq., and I. McPherson, Esq., the principal legatees under the will Owing to the absence of some witnesses the hearing was adjourned until Nov. 30.

Securing Men and Teams.

Last week representatives of both the contractors and promoters of the new railroad across country were over the line of the proposed road from here to the state line preparing for the work of grading, and this week men and teams are being secured at various points along the route between here and Lawton so that work may be commenced at once. Mr. J. H. Newcomer of Philadelphia who represents Rogers & Company, the New York contractors, stated that work is to begin at once and that the route from here to the state line will be finished and trains running over that part of the road by the first of the new year.—Wyalusing Rocket.

Brother of Gen. J. A. Hill.

General Hollis Boardman Hill, a brother of General Jonathan A. Hill of this place, died on Friday, Nov. 4, at the Central Maine hospital at Lewistown, Me. The deceased was born in Stetson, Me., on May 31, 1845. His service in the Civil war was noteworthy. He enlisted when 19 years of age, and served with distinction. He was a member of the Loyal Legion and besides his military offices he was honored in holding several civic positions and was prominent in business circles.

Business Men's Meeting.

There was a good attendance Monday night at the meeting of the Business Men's association and several new matters were brought. The matter of the manufacture of a music cabinet gotten up by C. T. Bazette was referred to the industrial committee. State aid in building roads in adjacent territory will be looked into by the legislative committee. A number of new names were proposed for membership.

Sullivan-Wyoming Judgeship.

In the Sullivan-Wyoming judicial district, Hon. E. M. Dunham is defeated for reelection, Charles E. Terry, Esq., of Tunkhannock, the Democratic candidate being elected. Wyoming county gave Mr. Terry a plurality of 800, and Sullivan county went for Judge Dunham by about 170.

Gave Birthday Party.

Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kane of Locust avenue, gave a party on Nov. 9 for a few of her little friends in honor of her sixth birthday. Games were played and a fine supper was enjoyed. Flashlight pictures were taken of the hostess and her guests.

BIG MORTGAGE FILED

CONTRACT SAID TO BE LET.

Chief Engineer Harvey and Mr. Stone, One of the Promoters, Were in Towanda on Monday—Mortgage for $4,500,000.

A. K. Harvey, chief engineer of the New York, Penna. & Southwestern railroad, and Joseph Stone of Wilkesbarre, one of the promoters of the road, were in Towanda Sunday evening and Monday. They were here in connection with some legal work and Monday Mr. Stone attended to the filing of a mortgage in Bradford county given by the railroad to the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York city, trustee. The mortgage is for $4,500,000 and is dated Oct. 15, 1904. Later the gentlemen went to Laporte where another copy of the mortgage will be filed. For the railroad company the mortgage is signed by J. Wesley Allison, president and G. H. Meldrum, secretary.

The New York, Pennsylvania & Southwestern railroad is the new name of the Binghamton & Southern road which has Binghamton and Williamsport as its proposed terminal points. Work is now under way near Merryall on clearing the right of way in preparation for grading. The gentlemen here Monday while not disposed to talk much of the road, stated that the contract for the entire line had been let and that the bonds were all taken care of, in other words that the road had been financed. Mr. Harvey has an office at Wyalusing in the opera house block. It is understood that the company expects to have the part of the road from Wyalusing to Lawton completed by next Spring, unless some unforseen circumstance should arise to defeat the present plans.

Mr. Harvey was for nearly two years in charge of the engineer corps of the Susquehanna & New York railroad and made Towanda his headquarters. The road with which he is now connected, the New York, Pennsylvania & Southwestern, is not to be confused with the Pittsburg, Binghamton & Eastern, the line of which F. A. Sawyer of Towanda is the president. The former road is planned to strike the Lehigh Valley at Wyalusing while the P. B. & E. proposed line does so at Towanda.

Erroneous Report.

A Binghamton paper printed a report that Judge Lynch has been secured to try the murder cases at the coming term of court in December. The report is not only unfounded in fact but the cases have not even come before the grand jury yet. If true bills are found, Judge Fanning will be on the bench when the cases are tried.

Institute Exams.

Examinations are being held this week at the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute. The next term begins on Monday, Nov. 21. Olle J. Shores, one of the Institute pupils, returns to his studies next week after being out for several weeks on account of illness with appendicitis. He was operated on at the Robert Packer hospital.

Slashed Belts.

The Susquehanna Valley Hay company's plant on River street was broken into during Monday night and the miscreant slashed several belts in two. The work is evidently that of some one who has a spite against the company.

Your Overcoat Should Mark You

as a man whose clothes are beyond criticism in stvie and fit. Few clothes have that distinction because there are few tailors who know how to bring it about. Our Stein Block Smart Overcoats are filled with a style that adapts itself to the wearer far more readily than most custom tailor makes. It has taken fifty years of hard thinking to achieve this result, but it has been accomplished, and thousands of men are saving money and increasing their good looks because of it. You must come and see how true all this is that you have been reading.

TOWANDA CAPITAL INVESTED IN CITY OF SCHENECTADY.

Company Organized to Sell Land and to Make Stone Building Blocks.

Towand capital is the maintaining of many enterprises scattered over various parts of the country. The latest business venture in which Towanda men are interested is the Schenectady Annex Improvement company of Schenectady, N. Y., which has been recently incorporated. Interested in are Geo. W. Kipp, U. M. Fell, E. F. Kizer of Towanda, Thomas Wilson and Charles McDonald of Wilkesbarre.

The Schenectady Annex Improvement company proposes to establish as an addition or suburb of the hustling city of Schenectady what might be justly designated as a model town. The company has purchased the Schufeldt farm of 200 acres, lying just outside and contiguous to the city of Schenectady on the West. Half of the plot has been subdivided into building lots, and half reserved for the location of manufacturing enterprises, with the expectation of securing large industries to locate thereon.

Will Build Stone Houses.

The company has already made plans for the manufacture of cement building blocks. From these blocks, the company will at once proceed to erect a large number of dwelling houses, using the unlimited supply of material for that purpose found on its own lands. It is also the intention of the promoters of the company to manufacture stone building blocks for the trade, and if this proves to be a satisfactory move, will largely increase the plant.

Schenectady is one of the largest manufacturing towns of its size in the country, being the home of a large branch of the American Locomotive company and of the main plant of the General Electric company. It is to provide homes for the people connected with the manufacturing establishments of the city, and to give room for new industries seeking favorable location that this new addition is put upon the market.

Plots of Townships.

Mrs. Hiram Case, having a large number of plots of the different townships of Bradford county, all of which are in fine condition, and the work of her late husband, has sold the set to the county, and they are said to be a valuable acquisition. Mr. Case, be it remembered, was a surveyor for many years.—Troy Register.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. J. B. VanMetre of Shepherdtown, W. Va., says "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Turner the druggist. Trial bottles free, Regular size 50c, $1.00.

Cheap Rates Still on the L. V. R. R.

Every Wednesday the Lehigh Valley will sell a round trip ticket to St. Louis and return for $17, good to leave on No. 1 fast express train leaving at 3:02 p. m.

A prize of $10 in gold offered by a western canning factory for the best acre of sweet corn was won by a man who furnished five tons as the product of one acre.

A neighbor last year packed a barrel full of alternate layers of potatoes and Snow apples. These apples, which are an early winter variety, kept in perfect condition until May. This is worth trying.

Loyalty to home institutions will not to any appreciable degree prevent men from buying where they can buy the cheapest. This fact the country merchant is up against as he never was before.

In a test made with an eighty acre blue grass pasture this season it was found that the grass crop was worth $8.07 per acre for beef production. This would make the pasture worth over $100 per acre.

The raising of Sumatra tobacco in Connecticut in fields protected with a covering of cheesecloth is not proving a financial success. There was thought to be a mint of money in the plan when started three of four years ago.

The banana son of Italy has driven Pat from his time honored place as railway laborer, hodcarrier and general stevedore. It is rare now to find a gang of Irishmen at work. They have largely quit coming to this country, and those who are here are either policemen or aldermen.

Ditching machines operated by steam traction engines which will dig a perfect ditch for the laying of tile three and a half feet in depth and 100 rods a day at a cost of $6.50 for operating expenses are now to be had. They will easily do the work as well as ten expert ditchers could do it in the old fashioned way by hand. A wet locality could well start a co-operative enterprise in the purchase and use of one of these machines.

A neighbor showed us lately a section of galvanized woven wire fence and wanted to know what ailed it, as it was all rusty and fast going to pieces. He said that it was only two years in the fence. It was the same old story, the effort to undersell a competitor who made an honest brand of wire. Our neighbor hunted for the cheapest fence, and he got it, just as every one does who expects to get a good thing for less than it is worth.

Things are pretty fairly adjusted on the farm for the producer and in the town for the consumer when the farmer gets 30 cents for oats, 40 cents for corn, 70 cents for wheat, 14 cents for summer eggs, 20 cents for butter, $5 per hundredweight for beef and pork, with wages at $24 per month on the farm and $1.75 per day in the city. When this ratio of values is much disturbed there is more or less friction in the commercial relations of the community.

There is all too much of this foolish sort of business going on. A young man with a sickly wife and one child, two teams of horses, a farm equipment of machinery and one hired man rented a farm in a western state of 240 acres. As if the effort to work so many acres would not have taxed the outfit to the limit, he thought he had not land enough and so rented another 160 acres. As a result he has 175 acres of corn, which will not go over 20 bushels of poor corn to the acre, and has raised enough weeds to stock a whole township. He would have had more clean money to his credit if he had been content to work 40 acres well. The lesson which needs learning all through the west is that he is not the best farmer who works the most acres.

Under the common type of fences on the farm the keeping of sheep is attended with not a little bother, as they have little or no respect for the ordinary three wire fence. Thus it comes that many a man will not attempt to keep any sheep who would be glad to do so. Now, here is a way in which it may be done without any expense or bother, and all the benefit of having sheep on the farm be secured. Let a dozen or such a matter of neighbor farmers organize a copartnership and put in money enough to buy, say, 200 ewes. Put this flock of sheep in charge of a herder, who may easily be some old man unable to do hard work. Furnish him a collie dog and let him graze these sheep from farm to farm and on the roadsides, stubble fields and waste places wherever weeds grow, herding them at night at some central yard, the flock to be either divided up when winter comes or be wintered at some central point together. The result of such a scheme would be fresh mutton for the members of the company all summer long, a good profit on the clip of wool and an increase in stock which would insure a good dividend, and, more than this, each farm would enjoy the benefit of the sheep as weed destroyers, a matter of itself which would more than pay good interest. There is nothing far fetched or impracticable about this plan, and it is one well worthy of a trial.

A LOST INDEPENDENCE.

The tendency of the times is toward concentration of effort and the division and specializing of all forms of labor. More people are learning how to do one thing only than ever before. The system applies not only to the city, but the farms as well. The meat supplies for the farm are shipped to the city packing house on the hoof and bought back of the local dealer by the man who produced the meat for his own use, this because he has never learned how to kill and cure his own meats. This is always a losing game. The butter is now all made at the creamery, which is a good thing, especially for the women on the farm. All the clothing for the men and boys and to quite an extent for the women is bought ready made. Soap making is a lost art, and the pickles, preserves and table delicacies which in times past were the pride of the housekeeper have been largely supplanted by store goods of doubtful quality. If a harness needs repair and a machine needs fixing, straight they go to the harness maker and the machine shop. Not one man in ten could fix them at home. We think that in this changed condition has come a distinct loss, man being more helpless and far less independent.

A friend works it this way: He sows his cornfield to rye when he cuts his corn, and as he cuts it he shocks the corn on the sowed portion of the field, which is entirely practicable when the disk and seeder follow close to the corn harvester. He tells us that he finds rye on corn stubble a great success as late fall and early spring feed for the cows.

The mud cats of the south are not high grade fish, but there are lots of them, and they are easily caught. One northern man has hit on a scheme to make money out of them and has the darkies catch them, and then he cans them and works them off on an unsuspecting public as a brand of salmon.

The writer raised an acre of onions this year, just one acre by measurement. It cost $65 to produce and market the crop, which sold for $220, leaving us a net profit of $155. The crop might have been largely increased by the use of a few dollars' worth of commercial fertilizer, but as it was it was raised on just good corn land.

All of our native plums are much given to suckering, and a single tree, the product of some seed which dropped in some fence corner on the prairie, will soon be the center of a plum thicket. These suckers are always of the same variety as the mother tree, which accounts for the quality of plums in any one thicket all being the same.

"We all do fade as a leaf" is the ancient and beautiful simile of human life, some smitten and destroyed by the winds and the hail of the summer, some coloring into a beautiful old age to give a fragrance to the woods, a few to hang on through the wintry blasts, brown and withered till forced to fall by the bursting of a new life and generation.

Woods aflame with color, as though the Great Artist were using them for a palette; here a flash of red from some sentinel maple, massed by the yellow and old gold of the elms and poplars and the greens, russets and maroons of the oaks—a pageant of splendor and beauty which vanishes almost as you gaze; a flood red sun and moon peering dreamily through a purple haze on a dying summer; west winds freighted with the odor of prairie fires and falling leaves; on all things the quiet and languor preceding the long winter's sleep. It is October. The quiet call of a bevy of quail in the weeds by the roadside, the trumpet call of cranes and wild geese en route from arctic swamp to southern lagoon, the caw of the lazy crow, the subdued chirrup of a few belated robins and blackbirds, the striduious squawk of a jay and the chilly song of the chickadee—all there is left of June's bird orchestra—this is October music. A deep and quiet pool in the river flecked by the fallen leaves, a rapid above and one below; vigilant, hungry, gamy, here lies the king game fish—the black bass. You cast a lively club into the pool—a swirl, a mad rush; hear the music of the reel! You bend your split bamboo almost double—you have him! He fights gamely for liberty, but he is yours if you land him right. There he lies a-quivering on the grass, a two pounder. This is October sport.

He was a German, what we call a tinner by trade in the old country. He had a wife and five children whom he managed to get over to this country somehow a few years ago. Not finding a chance to work at his trade in the place where he located he was up against a hard proposition; but, nothing daunted, he tackled the first work which came to hand, which was carrying a hod for a stonemason. He was faithful and industrious and soon had the reputation of being the best tender in town. When winter came he turned his hand to odd jobs of any sort and always did his work so well that he was never out of a job. The goodwife had hard pinching the first year. The bill of fare was pretty slim and clothes none too stylish. Another baby came that winter, the coming of which was the occasion for a very kindly helpfulness by his neighbors, who had admired the man's grit and pluck. Next spring there was a good garden made and a dozen hens were secured. Later he got a cow, and little by little he got on his financial feet, his wife and children always standing bravely by and helping him, and today it would take more than $4,000 to buy him out. His children have had a good common school education, he and his wife go to kirk on Sunday well dressed, while good fare is found on their table in place of the old hard times rations of six years ago. What this man did plenty of Americans might do and won't, and so hard times are with them as long as they live.

THE VALUE OF ROUGHAGE.

A friend asks what is the value of the feed other than grain which goes to the making of a hundredweight of meat on our western farms, the pasture, the hay, the fodder, the general roughage picked up by the animal while in a growing condition—in other words, what are the byproducts of the farm really worth? This is not an easy question to answer, so much depends upon the animal and the manner in which it is cared for. Right here we will say that the grass products of the farm, which term shall here be used to include pasture, hay, forage of all kinds, such as stalks, rape, clover, alfalfa, straw, etc., are not utilized to the extent they should be in the production of our meats. They are the cheapest foods produced on the farm and under better methods of utilizing them by the silo, summer soiling and alternating and successive crops of green food are capable of greatly lowering the first cost of all meat and dairy products. Too much of the things sold from the farms are made from the high priced grains. The first hundred pounds of every hog sold should be wholly a grass—a clover, blue grass, alfalfa or rape—product, and half of the next hundred pounds should be also, instead of which we find it a general custome to stuff the pig with corn from the time he is two months old until he is ready for the butcher, when the other method would insure a healthier hog and make cheaper and better meat. As things go on the stock farms today it is not far wrong to assume, for that is all that can be done anyway, that the grass products of the farm should be credited with about one-half of the value of all meat produced.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR.

A friend asks us to define the "good neighbor." We should first have to analyze the makeup of the man who wants good neighbors, for our experience is that a man gets just about the sort of neighbors he deserves to have. But, passing this phase of the matter, we should say that the good neighbor is governed in his neighborly intercourse by the Golden Rule and is unselfish enough to cheerfully and freely recognize the rights of others. He will be prudent withal and, making due allowance for the weakness of human nature, will insist on good line fences, short settlements on business deals and all business done upon a strict business basis. These things lay the broad foundation for pleasant neighborly intercourse. He will be accommodating in such matters as changing work, the lending of farm tools (except grain sacks), will be sympathetic and helpful in times of trouble and sickness and, finding out any fact of interest and profit to himself in his farm work, will be prompt to give his neighbor the benefit of it also. He will be ready to weave into his daily neighborly intercourse all those little courtesies and favors which cost so little and which count for so much in making and holding friends. Two men of wholly different political and religious belief, of widely separated intellectual ability, of different nationality and customs, one rich and the other poor, may still be the best of neighbors and friends when the foregoing conditions of neighborly intercourse are observed.

THE AUTHORITY OF LAW.

Two years ago a frontier fair was held in Alberta, Canada. There were exhibits of live stock, farm products, fruits, horse racing, shooting matches, athletic sports of all kinds and plenty of liquor to be had on the fair grounds. The attendance was very cosmopolitan in makeup. There were lumber jacks, hunters and trappers, ranchmen and cowboys, all the ragtag and bobtail of humanity which hang on to the outer fringe of settlement in a new country. In this country not all the constables, marshals and sheriffs of a county could have preserved the peace and maintained order. There the only evidence of police authority were two mounted Canadian police, who rode here and there among the crowd of 7,000 people and whose presence insured the most perfect order. This incident illustrates the working of English law, which is always enforced whether or no, while in this country just so much law is enforced as the people want and no more.

The little workers of the soil have much to do with agricultural prosperity or misfortune. The work of the common earthworm in nitrifying the soil can hardly be estimated; the army of beetles which live on decaying vegetation contribute much toward furnishing a valuable humus for the soil, while the ants, the pocket gopher, the mole and the cutworm are recognized enemies which the farmer knows but too well. These pygmy soil workers have to be reckoned with for good or evil.

The people are to blame for the wholesale adulteration of their food products by demanding at half price clever imitations of genuine goods.

Happenings All Over the State in Condensed Form.

MINISTER FOUND DEAD IN BED

Rev. F. L. Hiller, a Former Wilkesbarre Pastor Died at Son's Home at Honesdale—Man Near Lewisburg Died of the Rabies.

Antrim miners are now working every day.

Edward McKaig, aged 16 years, of Dupont, was instantly killed by being run down by a street car.

Too much politics was the alleged cause of the separation of Henry E. Thomas and his wife Elizabeth of Sunbury. They had lived happily together for several years.

When George Moore, a tramp, was sentenced by Justice Baltzle at Williamsport for disorderly conduct and profanity, he called the judge vile names. Moore refused to recall them and Baltzle proceeded to administer short arm jolts until Moore cried he had enough. Then he went to jail to serve 40 days.

Lieut. William Weitzel of Wilkesbarre, was stabbed twice on a recent morning while standing at the corner of a street conversing with a friend. The stabbing was done by Philip Koeler, who is now in the county jail awaiting trial.

Rev. F. L. Hiller, a former Wilkesbarre pastor, and a man for many years prominent in the Wyoming conference, was found dead on Saturday in the bathroom of the home of his son, Rev. Will H. Hiller, at Honesdale.

Miss Sallie Fisher, one of the best known women in York, has been a teacher in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school regularly for 60 years. Members of the school claim that this record is unequalled. Five other teachers in the Sunday school have been teaching for 20 years.

The Democratic girls at Bryn Mawr got mad at a banner put up by the followers of Roosevelt and tore it down.

James Miller of Bratton township, near Lewistown, died of hydrophobia. A dog with rabies bit one of his dogs and in killing one of the latter Miller received the bite that later caused his death.

An epidemic of scarlet fever has broken out in Enon Valley, Lawrence county.

In the divorce case of Ada V. Runkle against her husband, William H. Runkle, former proprietor of a well known York hotel, Mr. Runkle's counsel presented a petition to the court, asking that Mrs. Runkle be directed to pay to her husband $1,000 with which to defray the expenses of his defense.

A letter has been found, written by Levi Snavely, who committed suicide by hanging in his cell in the jail at Allentown, in which he states that his downfall was caused by two women. One of them, he avers, choked her baby to death and this crime preyed upon his mind.

Complete but unofficial returns give Roosevelt 494,525 plurality in Pennsylvania, the largest plurality ever given a political candidate in any state in the history of the country.

A test run was made on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad between Harrisburg and Altoona when the rate of almost a mile a minute for 131 miles was kept up, the time being 133 minutes.

A Scranton girl ran away and was arrested at Wilkesbarre. Her mother appeared and the girl repented her conduct and was allowed to go home.

Charles Beal of Norristown lost the sight of one of his eyes as a result of using a defective gun. A flash of powder when he fired at a rabbit struck him in the face and blinded one eye.

Mrs. Celia Armstrong, member of the wealthy Huston family of Williamsport, was granted a divorce in the Circuit Court at St. Louis, Missouri, from Robert Armstrong, son of Colonel Armstrong, of Knoxville, Tenn.

What was likely the smallest baby ever born in Lycoming county died at Jersey Shore Nov. 4. When the child was born on September 9, it weighed exactly two pounds. In the seven weeks of its existence the infant gained one scant pound.

James Sheridan, a member of the Hazleton football team, was admitted to the state hospital at that place to be treated for a serious case of blood poisoning. Sheridan wore a red sweater between halves in a game, and the perspiring pores of his skin absorbed the dye, causing poisoning.

Mrs. Cloe Walker, Reading's oldest citizen, celebrated her 102d birthday on Nov. 8 by entertaining friends and relatives at her home. She is still well preserved and able to see clearly, and work about the house as well as a woman many years her junior.

Northampton county, which usually gives a Democratic majority of 1,500, has given Roosevelt a majority of over 17,000.

Dr. J. T. Rothrock, who resigned as state forestry commissioner on the first of June, recently purchased a mountain farm, east and adjacent to the Mont Alto sanatorium, and proposes to establish a private sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis.

T. F. Tracy, a traveling man of Mahanoy City, committed suicide by drinking the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid. No reason is known for the deed.

Again the question of selling the coal under the river common at Wilkesbarre is being talked of.

A wild cat weighing 47 pounds was killed near Mauch Chunk on Friday.

The State will get $41,102.01 collateral inheritance tax on the estate of $910,847.76 left by the late Arnold Plummer, of Franklin, who died in September leaving neither wife nor children. Included in the appraisement are 250 shares of Standard Oil stock, valued at $157,000.

At a meeting at Philadelphia of the woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal board of missions of the diocese of Pennsylvania, announcement was made that $50,000 had been contributed to the board. The donor's name was not made public.

It is quite probable that an underground railway will be constructed in Scranton, as a result of the plan to connect the Laurel Line with the new acquisition of the New York, New Haven and Hartford—the Carbondale and Scranton branch of the Ontario and Western.

Miss Lizzie Eckert, of Berwick, ate rat biscuits by mistake for tea wafers, but was saved from death by the prompt action of a physician.

The construction of the large addition to the steel car plant at Berwick is rapidly progressing and with favorable weather it is expected to have the building enclosed by the first of December.

Small hope is entertained for the recovery of George Markley, aged 4 years, of York, who was accidently shot by his playmate, Eckert Baum, with a cat rifle. The ball lodged in his forehead and cannot be removed.

Fast through trains on the Hazleton and Wilkesbarre third-rail line are not very popular. Such fast riding down mountain grades, with many sharp curves, is not pleasing to the patrons of the line.

Charles and Edna, twins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Steiernagle, of Sharon, were found dead in bed by their mother. She had been feeding the children condensed milk from a can, and the coroner decided that their death was due to ptomaine poisoning.

A rumor to the effect that the Laurel line, a successful and valuable third rail system, between Wilkesbarre and Scranton, is to be merged with the Wilkesbarre and Hazleton third rail road and will after the first of the year be run by the same management, is in circulation.

Having disposed of all her possessions in Ireland, Mrs. Michael Jennings arrived at Williamsport, expecting a happy reunion with her son, who had sent for her to come to America to keep house for him. Instead she found him in the hospital, his life dispaired of, he having fallen into some machinery at a local plant which crushed his legs.

Miss Anna I. Honsberger, editor and manager of the Tamaqua Register, was married on Nov. 5, to A. J. Person, general traffic manager of the Alpha Portland Cement company. Mrs. Person will continue in charge of her newspaper.

Because the support and co-operation of his congregation was leaving him, Rev. J. Elmer Saul of Norristown, a Baptist pastor, has resigned.

During a blinding snow storm Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ludwig of Neversink Station, near Reading, was baptized in the Schuylkill canal by Rev. F. B. Jones of the Holiness Christian congregation.

Isadore Rush, the actress who died while in bathing at San Diego, Cal., was the widow of Nat Wolf of Wilkesbarre, a druggist.

Scranton is to give Cooney, the great Princeton football player who is a resident of that city, a big reception.

Edwin A. Kercher, aged 31 years, an Allentown grocer, and his daughter have both died within a few days of diphtheria. A terrible epidemic of that disease is raging in Allentown. Nearly 50 children have died within a month and there are now several hundred cases in the city.

Mrs. William Fenstermacher, of Berwick, died from the effects of inhaling fumes from a furnace, which filled the room in which she was sleeping. She was alive when discovered, but her heart was weak and she died, before the day was uot.

Sayre School Board Doesn't Know What to Do With Building.

The board of school directors butted up against a stone wall proposition at a meeting held Monday evening in the shape of a question as to what rights the school district has in the matter of the new school building in West Sayre.

A long time ago the board ordered T. P. Maney to quit work on the building because he was not properly executing his contract. Mr. Maney did not quit work and the building is now nearly completed. But according to the official knowledge of the board, only the cellar walls and the walls surrounding the first floor are erected. George L. Roberts has done a large share of the plumbing in the building and now he wants his compensation. The board does not know whether to pay Mr. Roberts or not. The members fear, if they do, they will be taking official recognition that Mr. Maney has the building nearly completed.

The question was referred to the building committee with instructions to consult the board's attorney, I. N. Evans. James Adam, secretary of the board, reported Monday evening that Mr. Maney desired to know what design to purchase for the steel ceilings. The plans and specifications of the building provide that the board shall select the ceiling design. Again the board could take no action for the members were not supposed to know that Mr. Maney was continuing the work. The whole affair seems like the "Comedy of Errors" with both Dromois dead drunk.—Athens News.

Sale of Farm Property.

W. P. Crandall will sell at auction on his farm in West Franklin, on Nov. 25, a large amount of farm property.

A Blown Out Candle.

The only reason, it seems, that we don't die when we are in a room where a candle is blown out is that we don't get enough of the deadly composition that is eliminated from the burning wick, of which carbureted hydrogen, carbonic oxide and acroleine are some of the component parts. A medical journal tells of a company of jokers who tried a pleasantry on a boy sleeping in one corner of their room. They held to the boy's nose the smoke of a blown out candle. In a little while the boy fell into short breathing, trembling and cramps and died in three days.

The Stomach's Lining.

How are children so often able without injury to swallow such sharp things as pins, needles, tacks and bits of glass? The secret as disclosed by a scientist of Vienna lies in the fact that, when a pointed or sharp edged body comes into contact with the lining of the stomach or intestine, the part touched contracts and puckers so as to thicken itself in that place. At the same time it withdraws itself in such a manner as to form a little pocket and gradually twists the object around so as to turn the edge or point away, pushing the thing along.

Proper Beginning.

Ascum—I hear your son is going in for a literary career? Mrs. Dreamer—Yes. He started in this very morning. Ascum—Indeed! What has he done? Mrs. Dreamer—He's sat for his photograph in two poses, one where he's reading a book and another with his brow resting on his hand.—Philadelphia Press.

FOSTER'S ENTERTAINERS.

Pleasing Program Given at the Presbyterian Church.

Foster's Entertainers appeared at the Presbyterian church Tuesday night under the auspices of the Overton Band society. The members of the Entertainers are Miss Catharine Lane, soprano, Miss Ethel Palmer, artistic whistler, and Miss Helen M. Gomes, reciter and impersonator. The work of all three was excellent, and the varied program given was much enjoyed by the audience present. The young ladies appear under the Star Lyceum Bureau of New York city.

Miss Lane has a very pure, rich soprano and was well received in all her numbers. Miss Palmer, artistic whistler, when she was almost a baby had a wide reputation around Oneonta, N. Y., her home, as a whistler and her great natural talent has been enhanced by her tutelage under the famous Alice J. Shaw. Miss Gomes, in her reading and impersontations, gave a very pleasing variety of humorous and dramatic pieces and made a very favorable impression.

DEATH AT CANTON.

Mrs. Hannah Landon Passed Away on Nov. 6.

Mrs. Hannah Landon, relict of Eldaah Landon, died at her home in Canton, Nov. 6, aged 79 years. She had been in poor health a long time. Deceased was a daughter of Christian and Martha Heverly and was born in Overton Sept. 20, 1825. Her father was one of the original pioneers of the "Heverly settlement," where deceased grew to attractive womanhood. She is not only remembered as a pretty girl but as a handsome lady, even in her declining years.

She was a woman of exalted christian character, a faithful worker in the church and Sabbath school and a life long member of the M. E. church. Her last husband died some years ago and she leaves no children. One sister, Mrs. Edward Rinebold of Towanda, and one brother, LeRoy Heverly of New Albany, survive her. Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon.—Bradford Star.

Ontario Club Officers.

The annual meeting of the Ontario club was held last evening, having been adjourned from the first Tuesday evening in November. The following officers were elected for the current year: President, Charles L. Tracy; first vice-president, D. T. Evans; second vice-president, John C. Ingham; members of the board of directors, George W. Kipp and Henry C. Porter.

Wilson—Rogers.

George Rogers of Troy and Wilhelmina Wilson of Arnot, were married at the M. E. parsonage in Troy, Thursday evening, Nov. 3 at 8 o'clock. They were accompanied by Howard McMahan and Miss Margaret Wilson.

LaMont-Ballard.

William LaMont formerly of Towanda, but now of Watkins, N. Y., was married to Mrs. Clara Ballard of Manton, Mich., by Rev. Eli Pitman at Elmira on Monday, Nov. 7.

Work of the Returning Board.

Hon. C. S. Russell, W. E. Lane, Esq., and J. J. Spalding, the official returning board finished their work Monday afternoon. The task of counting and tabulating this year's returns was greatly hampered by incorrect signing of papers and the omission of necessary papers from two of the envelopes, two boards having placed part of the returns in the ballot boxes. The districts where the returns were not signed properly were: Armenia, Columbia second district, Herrick, Athens township third district, Wyalusing borough, Wyalusing township second district, Wysox township first district, Warren, Sayre borough second ward and Ridgebury. The tabulated vote is as follows:

Presidential Electors.

Roosevelt and Fairbanks, 8,304; Parker and Davis, 2,945; Swallow and Carroll, 742; Debs and Hanford, 79; Corregan and Cox, 8; Parker and Davis, Independence, 4; Watson and Tibbals, 2.

Judge of Supreme Court.

John P. Elkin, R., 7,093; Samuel Gustine Thompson, D. and Ind., 2,544; A. A. Stevens, P., 721; George W. Bacon, Soc., 42; Archibald Grant, Soc. Labor, 18.

Representative in Congress.

Mial E. Lilley, R., 6,599; John Kuhbach, D., 2,601; W. S. H. Heermans, P., 1,423.

Senator in General Assembly.

Robert S. Edmiston, R., 5,685; George W. Kipp, D., 4,900.

Representatives in Assembly.

Louis T. Hoyt, R., 6,631; Nathan W. Pendleton, R., 6,506; W. D. Morse, R., 6,738; Ira Finch, D., 2,755; James W. Burke, D., 2,600; John A. Morley, D., 2,647; Hampton Champlin, P., 752; Charles P. Vandyke, P., 726; Collins Wood, P., 668.

District Attorney.

County Surveyor.

Hiram E. Ball, R., 6,609; Nathan F. Walker, D., 3,222.

John Sullivan of Towanda, one of the Democratic presidential electors, ran about 100 votes ahead of his colleagues, a number of Mr. Sullivan's Republican friends giving him a complimentary vote. The official returns give Edmiston 785 plurality. Wyoming gave Kipp 349, so that Edmiston carries the district by 436 votes.

The Congressional Vote.

The offical returns from the four counties forming this congressional district, Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming, gives M. E. Lilley, Esq., of Towanda, a majority of 4,479. The vote in each of the counties for the three candidates is as follows

Honesty as a Policy.

A judge and a party of lawyers were discussing various maxims when one of the lawyers said:

"Well, judge, do you really believe honesty is the best policy?"

"I'll answer that question by a story," replied the judge. "When I was practicing law one day in the interests of a client I said to a man:

"'Do you own a large black dog with white spots?'

"He looked at me quizzically and then said:

"'Oh, no. That dog is merely a stray canine that occasionally strolls into my yard. You're the tax assessor, aren't you?'

"'No. I'm only a lawyer. I came to tell you that a client of mine had accidentally shot and killed the big dog and authorized me to pay the owner $25 damages. But as the animal has no owner, why, of course there's nothing to pay. Good morning.'"—Cleveland Leader.

John Bull and the Letter "H."

John Bull and the trouble he experiences with the letter "h" have been the occasion of many a witticism. There is the story of one Londoner who scolded another for pronouncing "hour," "heir" and "honor" correctly. "Why don't you haspirate your haitches, you hignorant hass?" asked the critic. Among the traditions of the London bar is the story of one Sergeant Channell. He was arguing a case in which a vessel named the Helen was concerned. Every time the name cropped up Channell called her the Ellen. "Stop, stop!" said the judge at last. "How many vessels were there? I've got two in my notes, the Ellen and the Helen." At this point the attorney for the other side interrupted, giving Channell no chance. "There was only one vessel, m' lud," said he. "She was christened the Helen, but she lost her 'h' in the chops of the Channell."

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Governor Pennypacker has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation in the course of which he says:

"I, Samuel Whitaker Pennypacker, governor of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby set apart Thursday, Nov. 24, as a day for offering thanks and praise unto the Lord for his manifold blessings and mercies. He hath delivered us out of the hands of our enemies; He hath given light to them that sit in darkness; He hath filled the hungry with good things; He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts; He hath so blessed the earth that it has brought forth its increase; He hath defended us from perils and dangers innumerable; He hath not remembered against us our offences of our forefathers.

"Let us then gather together in our homes, meeting houses and churches and send forth praise unto Him, not only with our lips but in our lives and let us further remember to give help to the needy and succor to the poor and afflicted."

Some "society" people up the Hudson gave a fair at Garretson, at which $2,100 was raised, which sum it was decided to divide among three churches. Two of the churches each took its $700 in a becoming spirit, but the rector of a third church declined to receive his share because some of the money was raised by selling "chances," one of the fashionable designations of gambling. Even the secular papers, in this connection, mentioned the name of Mr. Carroll with honor, one of them forcibly remarking that "when lotteries, forbidden by law and refused the use of the United States mail, are maintained under the guise of religion, it is not strange that a disgusted, law-abiding public remain away from the churches."

President Butler, of Columbia university, recently gave utterance to the following tribute to the scholar, which deserves more than passing thought: "It has been the quiet scholar, busy in his chemical laboratory, working with his batteries and wires, studying gases and liquids, taking apart and compounding ever and anon, he is the man who has given us the key to the secrets of nature, and who has developed a series of power of which the early world was absolutely ignorant." But for the scholar the great commercial magnates would be small shopkeepers; we should have no railroads, and no steamships, no electric power and no telephones and telegraphs.

The New York Sun, which supported a checkered ticket during the past campaign, evidently masticates "crow" with considerable difficulty. In referring to the success of the candidate for whom it has been gunning the Sun says: "Mr. Frank Higgins is elected governor of New York. We acquiesce in this manifestation of the public will and we recognize the triumph of graft."

Winning against the machine that was without the shadow of a doubt convicted of organized graft, all lovers of liberty will regard the election of Joseph W. Folke as governor of Missouri with gratification. Dirty houses must be cleaned. The people of Missouri have cleaned house.

That the number of illiterates in Spain is being slowly reduced is evidenced by the fact that in 1860 only 19.97 per cent of the population could read and write, in 1877 the proportion had increased to 24.48 per cent, ten years later to 28.49 per cent and in 1900 to 33.45 per cent.

In 1870 it is said that 3.5 per cent of the marriages ended in divorce; in 1880 the proportion was 4.8 per cent, and in 1890 it had increased to 6.2. In Indiana in 1900 there was a divorce for every 5.7 marriages in the state.

If President Roosevelt had been just a little bit wiser he would have said something vigorous to the turkeys about race suicide in his Thanksgiving proclamation.

There are 44,000 hotels in the United States, representing an invested capital of over $6,000,000,000. These establishments employ 3,500,000 persons.

LAST WEEK'S VICTORY.

Later returns than we were able to give last week show that the Republican victory on Nov. 8 was unprecedented in its magnitude. There has never been anything like it. President Roosevelt's plurality of the popular vote will be nearly 2,500,000, and he will have 336 in the electoral college to Parker's 140. He carries 32 out of the 45 states. There were two or three uncontested elections in the early days of the government, but since the electors were chosen by the popular vote there has been no such preponderance. McKinley's highest plurality over Bryan, in 1900, was 849,790.

It is entirely natural that there should now be much writing and talking about what caused this overwhelming landslide. There is a cause for everything and if a lesson is to be learned and the moral of the tale applied the causes which led to the result must be at least approximately arrived at. There are many different reasons assigned, and they vary as varies the standpoint from which the field is viewed; but there can be no doubt that there are two or three causes which in a large measure account for the enormous size of the Republican vote.

One of them is a lack of confidence in the Democratic party. It is still viewed with suspicion and distrust. Free silver and the other dangerous ideas of the Kansas City and Chicago platforms are not forgotten. Another reason is, that a fair degree of prosperity prevails and people are satisfied with the present conditions and fear to disturb them and possibly make them worse by a change in the national administration. Again, the Republican party for same years past has been doing things—good and great things—and has added much to its long record of progress and achievement. Again, the candidate, our president, as the vote clearly shows, is without doubt, immensely popular with the people. Thousands of Democrats voted for him in various states, notably our own.

The attempt made by the Democratic press and spellbinders to infect the public mind with the idea that Theodore Roosevelt is a dangerous man to entrust with power, that he desires to embroil the country in foreign war, that the constitution to him is an irritating restrant which he would like to be rid of, etc., etc., failed. The people like Roosevelt.

These are the reasons why the Republican majority is large. There are others, plenty of them. As a candidate Judge Parker was disappointing; he fizzled out. His speeches did him no good, his discussion of the issues showed a superficial mind, his personal attack on the President and Mr. Cortelyou with its unproved and unprovable charges hurt him. The fact that he was not a big enough man for the place he was running for seemed to stand out plainer every day as the campaign progressed. There was discord in the Democratic ranks, and "other things too numerous to mention."

We have won and we have won big, and we have a right to rejoice. But if the nation has trusted the Republican party so unreservedly and wholeheartedly, so much the more is there enjoined on the party devotion to its task and a faithful adherence to high principles. The greater the trust and faith reposed the greater the responsibilities—for there are great problems ahead.

THE DEFECTIVE BALLOT SHEET.

From many sources since election comes fault finding with the ballot sheet. There is no doubt that this is justified. Under the present election law of this state the ballot is so arranged that the voters in many cases marked after the presidential candidates and believed, having done this, that they had voted the entire state and local tickets as well as for president.

It was easy to fall into this error. Careful instructions as to how to mark the ballot correctly were quite generally given in the newspapers, but it is impossible to explain such a matter so clearly that numerous mistakes will not be made. The returns show that in every county in the state the candidates for local offices got from 5 to 20 per cent fewer votes than the presidential electors. The losses thus sustained by local tickets fell, of course, most heavily on the dominant party, the effect in many districts being to deprive the home nominees of much of the increased vote generally depended on in presidential years.

For example, in this county Roosevelt received some 1,600 or 1,700 votes more than did Mr. Lilley, Republican candidate for congress. It is easy to see that in a "nip and tuck" contest this might cause the election of local candidates whom the voters desire to defeat.

The ballot sheet is a most important part of the machinery of our elections, and such dangers as is here referred to should be avoided, and can be avoided if the ballot is properly arranged. So many objections are coming in from every part of the state that it is reasonable to presume either the supreme court or the next legislature will wipe out the present form of ballot.

CUT OUT OLD PREJUDICES.

The late election disclosed among other things the fact that a great many voters and probably a great many young voters changed their politics. Hundreds of first voters probably cast their ballots for a party that they had heard their forefathers abuse and villify. The change is suggestive. In every town in the United States there are families that have retained hatred for years; there are men who have allowed a boyish quarrel to continue until old age; they have told their children all the faults and weaknesses of the men whom they dislike; they in turn have taken it up until the man whom their father disliked stands as a pattern for all that is bad and unholy.

Scandals, things that tear the heart out of families and those affected, come from hate and prejudice. If hate and prejudice were cut out, the world would be a better place to live in. The father that nurses his hate of a man to such an extent that his children imbibe it and carry it on is an enemy of liberty and a biased, prejudiced and unfair person. Some people live on hate and unpleasantness. They are simply getting a taste of eternal punishment before they lie down in their last sleep. When you start out today, cut out old prejudices. If you cannot, at least don't endeavor to make your children as uncharitable as yourself.

HIS SQUIRM

Last week we showed up the Athens News man's trick of trying to put blame on us because we printed a Democratic advertisement in our columns when he had done exactly the same thing three or four days before We also remarked that we should enjoy seeing him squirm. We didn't have long to wait for our fun. He squirmed promptly on time and in a way to make it very plain that he had been stepped on hard. The squirm was a column and a half long and every line of it was pure squirm.

As a squirmer he is a success. He squirms better than he holds his pose as an editorial saint, and the reason is more successful in one role than in the other is not difficult to see. We shall now enjoy seeing him squirm again.

An employer of thousands of men was asked what thing in all his large operations gave the most concern. 'The man who does a little less than is expected of him," was the reply. 'He is the dangerous factor in all business. The absolute failure we readily discover and discharge, but the 'almosts' escape detection for months and often for years, and they make our losses as well as our fears. The drip in business is worse than the leak.'"

The estimated receipts and expenditures of the Republic of Cuba for the year of 1905 show a surplus of half a million dollars. More than nine-tenths of the entire Cuban revenues, amounting to $19,699.650, are derived from customs receipts. Cuba, under American tutelage, has made rapid progress in self-government, and although the next to the youngest of South America republics, it is already the most stable.

In Owego they seem to know how to celebrate. At the big Republican parade on Monday evening there was a demonstration of ability along celebration lines. A committee on noise had been appointed and this was the result: A wagon carrying a small steam engine, to the exhaust pipe of which was attached a horn, which made an ear-splitting noise; following was a wagon containing a locomotive fire on which a man continually pounded with a sledge hammer; winding up the rear of the parade was a 20-ton steam roller, blowing its whistle.

John Branyan, of Philadelphia, cleaned his gloves with gasoline last Saturday, put them on his hands, went into his dooryard and lighted a match to light a cigar. His gloves ignited, caused an explosion, and Branyan was severely burned around his face and neck as well as upon the hands. Practical experience is the best of teachers, but it is often terribly expensive.

The election of Douglass, the shoe man, to the governorship of Massachusetts, is ascribed to advertising. It is undoubtedly true that the use of press and magazine made the man's name what it is. But—he must have had good goods behind the name to keep the name good. This is a pointer to those using advertising space. The goods must be right for the people cannot long be fooled.

Rev. Dr. Anna Shaw told a lecture audience recently that for a long time women's status has been increasing, while that of men has shown an opposite tendency. Dr. Shaw expresses the belief that the physical deterioration of man is traceable to their indulgence in tobacco and liquor.

Pope Pius X has announced December 8th, 1904, the 50th anniversary of the promulgation of the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary, when appropriate services will be held in all Catholic churches in the world.

THE RESULT IN THE COUNTY.

The sweeping tide of Republicanism, which in every Northern state overran its usual boundries and broke into the solid South, was also a submerging flood here in Bradford county. All former records were swept away and the Democracy almost obliterated. Heretofore 4,500 Republican plurality has been a record mark and never before has the majority climbed to nearly 1,000 more. This year, to be exact, it is 5,446.

Here, as elsewhere, Roosevelt was stronger than his party, and his extraordinary and unprecedented plurality marks his popularity with the masses—with the people of all parties and classes as with the voters of his own party.

The official returns show that the Republican nominee for President received 8,304 votes while the Democratic candidate had only 2,858. A few more such slumps in its vote and the Democratc party in Bradford county will have disappeared forever from the face of the earth. The pluralities on the rest of the ticket were considerably less, ranging from a majority of 785 on the senatorship to 5,446 on the head of the ticket. The result then altogether was a glorious victory and a triumphant vindicaton of Republican principles and leadership

A boy who reads the papers asked his father, "Pop, what is the meaning of bucket-shop?" The father, who has been scorched more than once in the street, replied, after some thought: "A bucket-shop my boy, is a cooper establishment to which a man takes a barrel and comes back with the bung hole."

National Campaign Funds.

During national campaigns the books of the treasurer and manager are kept in a peculiar way. Instead of entering accounts by name each account is given a number and is thus carried throughout the campaign. The key to this legendary system is known only to two or three trusted men, and the accountants who keep the books have not the slightest knowledge of what state committee or other organization or individual stands behind the number. After the campaign is over the books are burned, and all the records, except possibly some private memoranda kept by the manager, are wiped out of existence. Such a thing as the auditing of campaign expenditures was never known and probably never will be known so far as national campaigns are concerned. Everything is trusted to the honor of the responsible men, and I have never heard that any of the managers of a national campaign were suspected of betrayal of their trust in any way.—Walter Wellman in Success.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.

THE ETERNAL MASCULINE.

At seventeen we meet some girl
We worship fond and deep
And beg from her a tiny curl
We e'er and aye may keep.
"'Tis spun gold," we ardent swear,
"A mesh of filigree,"
And fondly kiss and hide it where
No prying eye may see.

At twenty-seven, less enthused
With auburn tinted curls,
We, finding it, grow much confused
To recollect which girl's
Fair head it lent a halo to—
May, Kate or Prue, the dears—
"Well, pshaw, the thing that's best to do
Is keep it ten more years!"

At thirty-seven, then, one day
While rummaging, we stare
In absent way at it and say:
"The devil! Whose red hair
Is this? It ne'er belonged to me!
The bricky stuff!" Ah, Fate!
We toss it forth and smile to see
It crinkle in the grate.

"It seems to me," said his friend, "that your college ought to establish a chair of gambling."

"A chair of what?" said the professor.

"Gambling. It is the great occupation of many, if not most of us, and the average college graduate is apt to take it up in some form or other in spite of all the warning he may receive. Therefore, why not train him to follow it with skill and success? Why not have, say, lectures on how to play poker, on how to play the races, on how to speculate in stocks and so on? If you could have these subjects properly handled you might turn out a corps of experts who would cover their alma mater with glory and reap a golden harvest for themselves."

WAY AHEAD OF BERKS.

Bradford County Has Twins Who Are 82 Years of Age.

Reading papers recently published the photographs of Isaac E. and John J. Hemming, twins of that place, who recently celebrated their seventy-fifth birthday and claimed that they were the oldest living twins in the state, noting their exception to the rule that twins die young.

In the family of Jeremiah Hollon of Monroe township consisting of 14 children were two pair of twins, Lyman G. Hollon, and Mrs. Eliza E. Irving, now enjoying good health at Monroeton who passed their eighty-second birthday April 23, 1904. Harry S. Hollon, now deceased, and Mrs. Almira Irving living in the same township were twins and Mrs. Irving was 76 years of age on Oct. 6, 1904. She is the mother of twins, one of whom is now living, and Mr. Hollon was the father of twins, both of whom are living. If any section in the state can beat Bradford county's record this paper would be pleased to hear from it.

"Young America" at Rome.

The people are not all asleep in Rome; saying nothing about the older ones, the girls and boys in their teens are wide-awake. The night of election the young girls gave a street parade, and the night after election the boys and girls gave another.

As the result of a wager between Leon Blaiser, Democratic, and Willie Tyrrell, Republican, young Blaiser led a goat through the streets of Rome, and back to the starting place, followed by all the young people, wild with election enthusiasm, after which he was escorted home with Republican honors, while the air resounded with cheers for "Teddy."

"Dream of Fairyland" Given.

Thirty-five pupils in the Methodist Sunday school gave the cantata "Dream of Fairyland" last Wednesday at Epworth hall. The principal parts, those of the two orphans, were taken by Fredericka Schmauc and Mildred Smith. Between the first and second part Miss Eulalie Kizer and Charlotte Ayers gave recitations and Miss Maud Bishop sang a solo. The front of the stage was prettily decorated to represent a woods scene. There were a number of well rendered solos, duets and choruses in the cantata, and it was much enjoyed.

Large Verdict Received.

In the supreme court of New York Mrs. Mary C. Ganun has been awarded $35,000 for the loss of her husband who received fatal injuries in a wreck in the Grand Central tunnel on January 8, 1902. The suit will be of interest here as Mr. Ganun was before his death a partner of George F. Parsons of New York city, a former Towanda resident. The award of damages is said to be the largest ever awarded under similar circumstances as Mr. Ganun lived 18 months after the accident.

Snover—Cook.

Victor Snover and Miss Harriet L. Cook, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Cook, pastor of the Wyalusing Methodist church were married at the home of the bride on Wednesday of this week, at 1:30 o'clock, in the presence of only the relatives of the bride and groom, the ceremony being performed by the bride's father. Mr. and Mrs. Snover are two of Wyalusing's popular young people and their many friends extend congratulations.

Yoeman on Alabama.

Miss Ruth Whitney stopped over in Towanda Friday on her way to her home in Rome after a visit in New York city. While there she was a guest on board the Alabama where her nephew, John Study, is a yoeman. Mr. Study is also clerk to Admiral Davis. Miss Whitney was the guest of Miss Helen Rockwell while in Towanda.

Recovering From Typhoid.

TOWANDA YOUNG LADY TO WED NEW YORKER.

Miss Espy Will Become Mrs. Stehle on the Day Before Thanksgiving.

The Philadelphia Inquirer of Monday announced the coming marriage of Miss Mary L. Espy of Towanda, at present a teacher in the Orange, N. J., public schools, to Felix C. Stehle of New York city. The wedding will take place on the day before Thanksgiving. Miss Espy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Espy, and for several years taught in Towanda and Athens. In the latter place she met Mr. Stehle, who is a civil engineer. The Inquirer says:

"While spending a few days with the bride's sister, Mrs. J. E. Marsden, at 2229 Spruce street, a marriage license was secured and the announcement of the coming wedding made. As neither were residents of this city Mrs. Marsden was obliged to accompany them to the office of the license clerk. Arrangements for the ceremony have not yet been completed."

GOOD ADVICE TO GIRLS.

Don't Hang About the Station or the Postoffice.

Here is some common sense advice given by an editor to the girls of his town: "Don't hang around the depot unless you are going away or are there to meet friends. Don't go to the postoffice and shove about in a miscellaneous crowd. Don't go to church and take a back seat with your escort, then whisper and giggle throughout the sermon. Don't be loud and boisterous and slangy. Stand on your dignity and don't form acquaintances quickly. Don't carry your heart on your sleeve and don't throw yourself into the arms of every good looking drummer or well dressed stranger who comes to town. Be womanly, be modest, be thoughtful and serious at times; don't unsex yourself, and thus loose woman's sweetest charms."

ATHENS TO HAVE FAIR.

Movement on Foot to Incorporate an Agricultural Society.

There is a movement on foot to organize and incorporate an agricultural society and a racing association in Athens. Every man to whom the subject has been broached thus far has willingly subscribed and the prospects are that things will be in shape for a big fair here next Fall, says the Athens News.

The plan is to utilize the present driving park, enlarge the grounds build a new grand stand and put up new stables and a "main" building. Athens can readily enter the Central New York racing circuit and the proposition appears to be an altogether favorable one. The present owners of the driving park are pushing the enterprise.

It Does Pay.

A writer on commercial topics says that recent legal proceedings showed that the output of a great soda-cracker concern had increased 1,300 per cent, in three years, owing almost entirely to advertising. The business of a big shoe house has grown 1,000 per cent in four years since it began to use printers' ink.—Philadelphia Record.

Died From Injuries.

Peter Wolfe of Sheshequin died at the Ogden-Arnot hospital at Elmira Tuesday morning from injuries a few hours previous while working on the D. L. & W. bridge east of Waverly. The deceased is about 44 years of age and leaves three children ranging in ages from seven to 14 years.

Mrs. Reed's Mother Dead.

Mrs. Lydia A. Dilley, widow of Urbane Dilley of Wilkesbarre, died on Monday, aged 71 years. Mrs. Dilley was taken ill while on a visit to her son in Boston in August last. She was the mother of Mrs. Charles Reed of Wysox. Funeral services were held from her late residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Pipe Being Laid.

The United States Pipe Line company have a large force of men at work laying pipe through which to pump oil. In the winter crude oil gets thick and to relieve the pressure on the pipe an extra line is being laid from Dull Hill three miles below Mehoopany, to within six miles of Towanda.

New Albany P. O. S. of A.

The New Albany P. O. S. of A. are to have a celebration on Thanksgiving night when Clarence F. Huth, past state president and now state lecturer, is to address the meeting which will be held in the Methodist church.

Carter Got It.

George Carter, the former Towanda man who was arrested at Owego on suspicion of being implicated at Troy and who was discharged, was arrested again on the charge of drunkenness and given 30 days in jail. The way of George seems to be hard.

Announcements Issued.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Harry L. Wyatt of Brooklyn to Miss Lillian Steenworth on Nov. 2. Mr. Wyatt's many friends in Towanda will extend congratulations and best wishes.

MRS. McKEAN'S BIRTHDAY.

Well Known Towanda Resident Is Ninety Seven Years Old.

On Monday of this week, Nov. 14, 1904, Mrs. Eliza Ann McKean of Third street, Towanda, was ninety seven years of age. Mrs. McKean has a host of friends in this place and in the western part of the county who will wish her many happy returns of the day. While not in full possession of all her senses, her hearing and eye sight being somewhat impaired, Mrs. McKean enjoys remarkably good health for a person of even less years than she has lived. She is a very bright woman with a wealth of fine reminiscence to relate to those who call on her and she has also considerable literary and poetic ability.

She was born in Herkimer county, N. Y., on Nov. 14, 1807. In 1822 the family moved to the western part of the county, settling in Troy township. In 1848 Allen McKean, her husband, was elected prothonotary of Bradford county, and the family moved to Towanda where Mrs. McKean has since resided. Next to Mrs. Almira Gleason, who is in her ninety-ninth years, Mrs. McKean is the eldest inhabitant of Towanda.

A Moving Picture Circus.

England's famous moving pictures, presenting the indoor circus, a machine that does everything but talk; with all special effects, will execute the indoor circus just as seen under canvas at Hale's Opera House next Monday evening.

The following is what you will see: A complete circus from the arrival of the trains unloading in the early morning, until on the cars after the show at night. Unloading the horses, elephants, cages, etc. Grand street parade, entrance to the hippodrome, performing elephants, acrobats leaping tournament over elephants, cake walking horses, feeding the elephants, chariot races, the menagerie, bareback riding, wire walkers, Japanese foot jugglers, etc.

George Carter Discharged.

The police authorities of Troy, this county, after investigating the charge of robbery against George Carter, the colored man arrested at Owego, came to the conclusion that they could not convict, and withdrew the charges. Carter was thereupon discharged.

Railroad Orders by Telephone.

The Northern Central railroad company is installing many telephones connecting passing points with telegraph offices so that when trains are delayed away from telegraph offices they can be given orders by telephone and in that way be kept moving.

Staub Elected Captain.

Joe Staub, who played baseball with the Towanda team last season, has been playing a great game at quarterback for the Cook Academy football eleven. He has recently been elected captain of the eleven for next year.

SIXTY-FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rundell of North Towanda Surprised.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rundell on Monday of last week when their relatives and friends numbering about 60 in all gathered at their home in North Towanda to celebrate their sixty-first wedding anniversary. The guests began to arrive at about 9 o'clock and by the dinner hour a goodly number were present. A bountiful dinner was served after all had arrived. The remainder of the day was spent in visiting, singing and speaking. A prayer was offered by J. J. Bailey and W. P. Lane gave a short address which was much appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. Rundell received many presents, among them each a handsome chair, showing in what high esteem and love they are held. The enjoyable day was closed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." After shaking hands the guests left for their homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Rundell many happy returns of the day.

DEATH OF RICHARD BUSTIN.

Prominent Resident of Myersburg Has Passed Away.

Richard Bustin, a well-known and highly respected resident of Myersburg died Friday morning at 6 a. m., of cancer. Mr. Bustin was over 80 years of age and had lived on his farm at Myersburg for a long period. His aged wife and the following children survive: Rev. James Bustin of Corning Rev. Dennis Bustin of Jersey Shore, George Bustin of Wysox and a daughter who is in a convent at Rochester.

Funeral services were held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul in this place.

Venerable Lawyer's Anniversary.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 3, a number of the friends and neighbors of Eli Burton Parsons, Esq., of Troy, made him a surprise visit in honor of his 80th birthday anniversary. A handsome chair was presented and a delightful evening spent. Mr. Parsons was admitted to the bar in 1850 and has practiced law in Troy since that time. A feature of the evening was the "speech" by Dr. Elijah G. Tracy, who addressed "Eli of the house of Parsons," as "Elijah the Prophet," and continued in the language of the Chronicles to give a sketch of the venerable lawyer's life.

Goes to Hallstead.

Burt P. Gerould, who for the past year has held a position at Bath, N. Y., has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gerould here and has now gone to Hallstead, Susquehanna county, where he will manage a drug store. Mrs. Gerould has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Rickey, on Third street and will go to Hallstead later.

Lehigh Valley Improvements.

The Lehigh Valley yard at Coxton is undergoing a number of improvements at the present time, most important of which is the installation of several new tracks that will in a great sense do away with the heavy grade in the yard known as the "hill." All the buildings in the yard will be heated by hot air in the future.

Former Athens Pastor.

C. A. Benjamin, pastor of Asbury M. E. church, Scranton has secured by subscription the entire church debt a total of $10,400. Mr. Benjamin was formerly pastor of the Athens M. E. church and during his pastorate there and through his efforts the church debt was wiped out.

Man Found in River.

Julius Tozer, Jr., saw what at first he thought was a bundle of rags, in the bed of the Chemung river near Sayre last week Wednesday but it proved to be the body of a man who had been dead probably a week. He is unknown.

USING SIEGE GUNS

Russians Fiercely Shell Japanese Position at Shakhe.

BOTH SIDES WELL COVERED

Elaborate Intrenchments Render Field Artillery Useless—Distress In Mukden—Wealthy Persons Forced to Go to Public Kitchens For Food.

Mukden, Nov. 13, via Tientsin, Nov. 15.—An unbroken cannonade of siege guns, throwing fifty or sixty shells hourly against the Japanese position in the region of Shakhe station, began early in the morning, ending only at nightfall, when more than 500 big contact shells had been thrown into the Japanese army's strongest position in the plain for the purpose of demoralizing the work of fortification concentrated at that point for the last four weeks.

The bombardment was the most serious attempt yet made by the Russians' large guns, and it was made on account of the apparent determination of the Japanese to make Shakhe station an impregnable defense of the railway behind.

Both sides have so dug themselves into the ground night and day that artillery fire, as at Port Arthur, is practically ineffective and the ammunition is nearly wholly wasted.

Both sides, recognizing this, are resorting to the competition of big guns, and regular field artillery is only occasionally engaged.

Food Supplies Cut Off.

The abuse of the Chinese imperial customs transit passes for merchandise and baggage into Manchuria via Simmintin, thereby making recent traffic an abuse of contraband regulations and neutrality, has caused the Peking authorities to refuse further passes. This has cut off large supplies of foreign food and other products and has raised prices.

A reign of mercantile lawlessness exists, but is controlled by the care of the Russian authorities in their transactions to keep prices and internal conditions normal.

The distress of the natives has so increased as to render the previous inconvenience and loss of profits caused by the extinction of foreign trade and the total annulling of communication between the north and south of Manchuria insignificant.

The native officers here and also Viceroy Yuanshaikai at Tientsin are working in harmony to relieve distress and are also working with the foreign aid societies and feeding 20,000 refugees daily at Mukden.

Plight of Refugees.

Owing to obstacles in the way of filing and proving claims for damages by the Russian forces, most deserving refugees have not received compensation as provided in General Kuropatkin's proclamation.

Even the wealthiest farmers and gentry are eating inadequate charity gruel from the public kitchens.

The largest shops' chief sales consist of a few foreign commodities sold to the soldiers, such as tinned milk, tobacco and candles. Conservative Chinese have prevented lawlessness or anything resembling popular feeling, and conditions are entirely unlike what they were in Chili province during foreign occupation at the time of the Boxer trouble.

The epithet "foreign devil" is hardly ever heard in the streets, notwithstanding the present warring of two superior powers in a neutral country.

Russia Will Not Hear of Peace.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 15.—The continued suggestions from abroad regarding peace are treated, like their predecessors, as unworthy of serious consideration. The mere mention of arbitration arouses the ire of those in authority. The reiteration of the statement that President Roosevelt, having the support of Great Britain and France, had already been approached by Japan and was ready to offer his offices in view of Russia's position is not considered to be a friendly act.

Jap Loan Heavily Oversubscribed.

London, Nov. 15.—Subscriptions to the Japanese loan were closed at noon. It is stated that the bids for the $30,000,000 offered in London aggregate $300,000,000.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 15.—Emperor Nicholas received Viceroy Alexeieff in audience.

No News From Port Arthur.

General Kuroki Reported Dead.

Moscow, Nov. 13.—Nemirovich Danchenko, the well known Russian war correspondent, telegraphing from Mukden, says the reports of the death of General Kuroki are confirmed. According to his version, the splinter of a shell struck General Kuroki, tearing out a portion of his breast and abdomen. He died Oct. 4 at Liaoyang, and his body was sent to Japan.

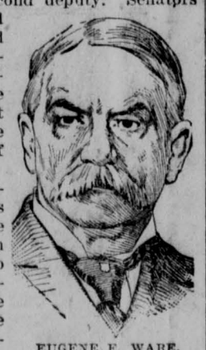
Samuel J. Randall's Widow Dead.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Fanny Ward Randall, widow of Samuel J. Randall, for years the Democratic leader in the house of representatives, is dead at her home at Chestnut Hill, a suburb. She was a daughter of General Aaron Ward of Ossining, N. Y., who was a member of congress from 1827 to 1843. Mrs. Randall was well known in official circles in Washington during her husband's career.

WARE'S SUCCESSOR.

J. L. Davenport and L. L. Kelley Talked of For Pension Office.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The question of Pension Commissioner Ware's successor has not been settled. The most prominent candidates at present are James L. Davenport of New Hampshire, the first deputy commissioner of pensions, and Leverett M. Kelley of Illinois, the second deputy. Senators Cullom and Hopkins and the house members from Illinois will make a strong effort to secure the appointment of Mr. Kelley.



EUGENE F. WARE.

Mr. Ware's resignation takes effect Jan. 1. He gives no reason for wishing to separate himself from the public service beyond the desire to return to the practice of law. Mr. Ware's resignation was written on Monday, which disposes of the oft repeated rumors that he had placed his resignation in the president's hands several months ago, with the understanding that it was to be called for whenever the chief magistrate wished to make a change in the office.

SECRETARY HAY WILL REMAIN

Not to Give Up Office, Says President. Spooner May Be Attorney General.

Washington, Nov. 13. — President Roosevelt made the announcement that John Hay would continue as secretary of state during the four years beginning March 4 next.

"You may state positively," were his words, "that Mr. Hay will continue as secretary of state up to the 4th of March, 1909."

There is some talk here that Senator Spooner is to be attorney general in the new cabinet. It is said that Attorney General Moody wishes to withdraw from public life and return to his law practice in Massachusetts. Between Senator Spooner and the president there is the warmest friendship.

Senator Spooner has declined high honors repeatedly. President McKinley offered him two cabinet positions, and he declined them. The first was that of the secretary of interior when Cornelius N. Bliss resigned in December, 1898. The second was when Mr. McKinley made up his cabinet for his second term and in January, 1901, asked Mr. Spooner to become attorney general. Mr. McKinley also tendered the Wisconsin senator a membership on the United States and British joint high commission, which was declined.

WIRED AROUND THE WORLD.

Chicago Had to Communicate With New York Via Yokohama.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Cut off from the east by the storm's destruction of telegraph and telephone wires, Chicago brokers resorted to extraordinary means of communicating with their New York offices.

Messages were sent around the world by way of Yokohama, but no replies were received in time to be of value for the day's trading. In other instances messengers were dispatched to New York on the twenty hour flier, which leaves Chicago just after noon, the hope being that the fast train would be able to reach the metropolis before the opening of the Stock Exchange. Still another expedient was to telegraph orders to Rochester or Buffalo, to which cities wires were in operation, and from which the orders were mailed to New York city.

It was the most complete tieup of wire service that the Stock Exchange has known in the last sixteen years. There was no time during the day when any broker knew the condition of the New York market at the moment, quotations being so far behind time as to be valueless.

Look Out For This Bad Bill.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Chief Wilkie of the secret service has issued a notice regarding the appearance of a new counterfeit ten dollar United States note (buffalo note). It is of the series of 1901, bearing check letter D, plate No. 174. While the general appearance of the counterfeit is deceptive, the flimsy character of the paper and the coarseness of the silk threads, together with the fact that a period is used between "Washington" and "D. C.," should enable the careful handler to easily determine its true character.

"Boots and Saddles."

The well known call of "boots and saddles" is really a corruption of the old French signal boute-selle—"put on your saddles"—from bouter, to put or place, and selle, saddle. The mediaeval saddles were of such a cumbrous and heavy make that they were taken off the horses whenever possible. In Mathew's "Powerful Favorite" of 1628 occurs the phrase "the trumpets sounded boute-selle."

In 1709 Steele wrote in the Tatler, "The sound was changed to 'boots and saddle,'" but it seems probable that the phrase ran in its present form before that date, possibly coming into use during the civil war among the Roundheads, to whom the old French boute-selle would seem pandering to the cavalier and French tendencies of the court.—London Times.

Everything Here Short.

The late M. A. Lower, the antiquary, is responsible for this Lullington anecdote:

One Sunday morning the curate, a man of diminutive stature, preached from the shortest text in the Bible, "Jesus wept," to a congregation of a dozen people, and the offertory realized only 18 pence, whereupon a stranger remarked that it was the smallest church, the smallest congregation, the smallest parson, the shortest text and the smallest collection he had ever known.—Westminster Gazette.

PANCAKE BREAKFAST

Senator Platt Entertains New York Politicians at Owego.

PIE LARGE PART OF MENU.

One Five Feet Long Was Presented to Aged Tiogan by His Neighbors—Depew, Who Is Boomed For Senatorship, Makes a Speech.

Owego, N. Y., Nov. 15. — Senator Platt's Tioga county breakfast to the politicians of the state was an enthusiastic function.

The bill of fare included buckwheat cakes and maple sirup, bacon and beans, coffee and pie. There were all kinds of pie, including a big pumpkin pie five feet long and three feet wide, presented to the senator by friends in Waverly.

While the breakfast was ostensibly for the purpose of celebrating the victory of President Roosevelt, Senator Depew's re-election to the senate was boomed.

Speeches were made by Senator Platt, Job E. Hedges, M. Linn Bruce, Senator John Raines and Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

Senator Depew said in part:

Originality and initiative are the evidences of youth. This buckwheat breakfast, celebrating the election of Roosevelt, finds its suggestion and execution in the brain of our host. In bringing us here to the scene of his boyhood days, his start in life and his early triumphs he carries us back to first principles.

King David began life by playing the harp and then became the king of Israel. Senator Platt began his political career by leading the glee club in the Freemont campaign of '56, and now for twenty years as leader of his party in the Empire State he has won fame and affection. Senator Platt's twenty years of leadership will stand in our political history as unequaled in its absence of factional strife within the party and the glorious victories of the party.

Depew Eulogizes Roosevelt.

And, now, gentlemen, we come to our chief. What elected Roosevelt? The answer is as clear as revelation: Roosevelt elected Roosevelt. No personality in American public life ever stood out so distinct in individual characteristics, in emphasis of traits peculiarly his own and in outspoken confidences with the whole people like President Roosevelt. The qualities which his enemies caricatured or anathematized were the ones which endeared him to his countrymen. He holds his commission freer from pledges or obligations, except to the people who elected him, than any of his predecessors. This election teaches the thoughtfulness and independence of the people. It is no accident which gives this phenomenal majority to Roosevelt. It is no accident which elects Democratic governors in Minnesota and Massachusetts by almost the same majority as Roosevelt receives. It is an admonition and a warning to the party in power that the new governor of Massachusetts, in a state which has been Republican so long, will have an enormous patronage.

Now, my friends, what of the future? Upon the ruins of the disintegration of the Democratic party will arise an organization built up by able and resourceful agitators, whose appeal will be to discontent. It must be our task that there shall be a minimum of discontent and a maximum of satisfaction.

President Roosevelt's announcement that he will not be a candidate for re-election clears the political skies in our domestic affairs and gives to us a great president, free to exercise an independent and courageous judgment for the great policies, progress and position of the United States.

Senator Platt was given a monster demonstration at Owego on his return. There was a parade, and all the tin horns, devil crackers and rattles that had been held over from election night were turned out to swell the noise.

Sarah Bernhardt's Tact.

An illustration of Sarah Bernhardt's wonderful tact is shown in the following incident: During a performance of "Andromache" the hoots and hisses of many of the roughest men in the gallery led to their being ejected by the soldiers on guard. But, deaf to the objections of manager and secretary, Mme. Bernhardt insisted on the men being sent for between the acts. So, freed from the hands of the police, the disturbers, to their surprise, found themselves in the beautiful, electric lighted, cream and gold rooms, redolent of the perfume of flowers, and faced by the lady they had insulted, looking beautiful in the glittering gorgeous dress of the eastern princess. "Messieurs," said Mme. Sarah, with gracious dignity, "I have sent for you to say that the police are not to molest you. You are to go back to your places, and you are permitted to hiss as much as you like." The rough and motley crowd left the room in amazement, and storms of applause burst from the gallery when the curtain fell after the next act.

A Mean Husband.

"I think old Kreezus has the queerest way of teasing his wife I ever heard of."

"I thought he was fond of her."

"He is, but he likes to get a joke on her. You know she is sensitive about her age. Well, he has let everybody know that when they were married he gave her a magnificent necklace of diamonds, each diamond representing a year of her age, and he adds one to the string every time she has a birthday. Imagine how the poor woman is torn between her desire to display the necklace and the fear that when she wears it everybody will be counting the diamonds."

Utilizing the Log.

Miss Querie—I understand you had a narrow escape crossing the Atlantic? Mr. Hard-Port—Yes, indeed. The coal ran out, and the captain had to split up the ship's log to keep the fires going.

Exhausting.

ANTITRUST DECISION.

Interstate Commerce Commission on Chicago Terminal Case.

RATES DECLARED EXCESSIVE

Discrimination Regarded as Proved In Some Instances, but Combination Where There Is No Discrimination Is Not Considered Illegal.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The interstate commerce commission, in an opinion by Commissioner Prouty, has made public its decision in the investigation entitled, "In the matter of divisions of joint rates and other allowances to terminal railroads." It is decided that rebates which have been received by terminals in and about the city of Chicago controlled by the International Harvester company and the United States Steel corporation, popularly known as the harvester trust and the steel trust, have been excessive for the services rendered by the terminals in switching cars to and from roads leading to all sections of the country.

On the general question involved in the case, however, the commission has decided:

That it is not unlawful for a railroad operated as a common carrier and owned by the shipper to make joint rates with other carriers and receive divisions of such rates; but, on the other hand, that it is unlawful under the interstate commerce law and the Elkins amendment for any carrier to grant excessive divisions of rates to another carrier owned by the shipper for the purpose of securing the traffic of that shipper.

Unlawful Rebates.

To the extent such divisions of rates exceed a reasonable charge for the service performed it is decided that they operate as a rebate to cut the tariff charge for the benefit of the shipper and constitute undue preference in violation of the statute.

The International Harvester company owns the capital stock of the Illinois Northern railroad and a controlling interest in the Chicago, West Pullman and Southern railroad, operating a terminal connecting road between the plant of the harvester company and various other industries and connecting with roads leading to the Missouri river and other sections of the country.

Until recently the maximum switching charge received was $3.50 a car, but now the terminal receives a division of rate, with a maximum of 20 per cent on lines reaching the Missouri river, amounting to $12 a car on farm machinery. The commission decided that any division in excess of a reasonable switching charge is an unlawful preference in favor of the harvesting company. The case affecting the United States Steel corporation refers to a similar division of rates in favor of the Chicago, Lake Shore and Eastern railway, owned by the steel corporation.

Indirect Answers.

Yankees are said to answer one question by another. Turks meet questions by another sort of evasion, quite as irritating. Sir A. Henry Layard says in his "Autobiography" that during a journey through Asia Minor he met a shepherd driving his flock.

I asked him how many goats he possessed.

His reply was, "As many as passed by you."

"But," said I, "I did not count them. How many are there?"

"The same number I took with me to the mountains."

"But how many did you take to the mountains?"

"As many as I had."

It was useless to inquire any further.

Passing a caravan of laden camels, I asked one of the drivers whence he came.

"From that side," was the answer, pointing with his finger in the direction.

"But from what town?"

"The town is there," pointing again.

"But the name of the town?"

"It was toward Smyrna."

And so the colloquy ended.

This habit is derived from the suspicion entertained by easterners of strangers, who are generally taken for government officials on some mission connected with taxgathering or other business distasteful to the population.

Fish That Are Not Fish.

On our way into the interior of Newfoundland part of our route was over a lovely lake. We had not proceeded far when I thought I could occasionally see the water break with a splash in close proximity to the canoe. I turned to the native who was handling the paddle and inquired whether there were any fish in the pond.

"Fish? No, sir—no fish, sir."

Presently I saw not six feet from the bow of the canoe a magnificent salmon rise to the surface and with a swish of his tail disappear to the depths. Again I turned to my friend with the remark:

"Daddy, did I understand you to say that there were no fish in this lake?"

"No fish, sir—no fish."

"Yes, but—I beg your pardon—I—a moment ago saw what I took to be a twelve or fifteen pound salmon break the water not six feet from the bow of the canoe."

"Oh, yes, that was a salmon! There are plenty of trout and salmon in all these waters, but no fish, sir. You know, we don't count anything as fish in these parts but codfish, sir."—"Caribou Shooting In Newfoundland."

Unprepared.

Hostess (pairing off her guests)—Mr. Justyn, will you take Miss Smith out to dinner? Mr. Justyn (his first experience)—Er—Mrs. Jones, let me whisper something to you. I left my money in my other clothes. I've only got 15 cents about me. Please let some other man take her out.—Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Patterns For Lady's Underwear Designed by Martha Dean

Fashion vagaries are almost as marked in lingerie as in frocks, and the models vary from year to year. The nightdress models are made with a flat line about the neck, frills and ruffles having been found cumbersome. In the design shown provision is made for high or open neck, long or short sleeves. Drawers fitted by darts are satisfactory, as that does away with extra material at the waist line, and there is always great width as a finish at the knee. As to materials, nainsook, cambric and crossbarred muslin are favorites. The trimmings may be of Swiss or English embroideries, val or torchon lace. "Footing" makes a very pretty trimming, using little bands of ribbon run beading at each side. The point d'esprit with square mesh is best to use. It washes well and lasts better than lace. Fine French veining always gives to the garment a mark of elegance. It is used in seams, between lace and embroidery and through groups of tucks. Patterns Nos. 6121 and 6100. Sizes for nightdress, No. 6121, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Sizes for drawers, No. 6100, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING

Send 20 cents to this office, give numbers of these patterns, Nos. 6121 and 6100, and state sizes desired. They will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Or either of the patterns will be sent for 10 cents. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

Patterns For Lady's Costume Designed by Martha Dean

Eton and bolero jackets are greatly in demand and are made up for the smartest kind of wear. Their popularity is not far to seek, for they are becoming to both the slight woman and her stouter sister. Then, too, they are so simple and easy to make—not much more work than an ordinary shirt waist. They are certainly the most successful coats the home dressmaker has had to deal with in a long time. In this model the coat is cut with long shoulder extending over the sleeve in cap effect. This gives a decidedly quaint air to the garment, besides lengthening the shoulder line. The front comes well down in pointed tab effect and may be worn with or without a fancy vest. The skirt is a new seven gore flare style, having the front finished by three backward turning tucks which form a panel. The model is suitable for any of the new weaves, either in cotton, silk or woolen. It is capable of several variations, and a simple or elaborate costume can be fashioned from such a foundation.

Patterns Nos. 6158 and 6159.

Sizes for jacket, No. 6158, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure.

Sizes for skirt, No. 6159, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure.

SEVERELY INJURED.

Charles Sage Thrown to Sidewalk by Breaking of Light Pole.

By the snapping in two of an electric light pole on Washington street Friday afternoon, Charles Sage, a lineman, was thrown violently on the stone sidewalk and suffered severe injuries. His left arm was broken in two places and badly bruised and his right wrist fractured. Dr. D. L. Pratt attended the injured man and he was later taken to the Robert Packer hospital on the Black Diamond.

Mr. Sage was working near the top of the pole which was to be straightened. The pole snapped off just at the ground and one of the linemen called to Sage. He endeavored to slide down but went down in a crash and fell with awful force on the stone sidewalk. When picked up he was unconscious. He was taken to Myer's office across the street and later taken to his home. A pool of blood marked the spot where the unfortunate man fell. He was found to be in a most critical condition and it was deemed best to remove him at once to the hospital.

A telephone message from the hospital in the evening was to the effect that while Mr. Sage was seriously injured the chances for recovery were favorable. The left arm was found to be badly fractured just at the elbow joint and also above the joint. The right arm was fractured at the wrist. While there was no evidence of a fracture of the skull there was a general concussion received from the jolt or the force of his fall. The elbow joint of the left arm was opened up by the surgeons and the pieces of bone removed.

The latest reports are that the injured man is showing a slight improvement.

CARE OF CHILDREN.

President of Children's Home Society Addressed Churches Here.

Rev. W. Henry Thompson of Pittsburg, superintendent in this state of the Children's Home society, spoke in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and at the Methodist Episcopal church in the evening. In his morning sermon Mr. Thompson traced the development of the care for children, from the earliest times when there was not the regard for them that has since grown up, down through the middle ages when the orphans were first taken care of by philanthropic persons and societies. He then discussed the attention that is now given to the care of neglected, ignorant and depraved children and spoke of the work of the society of which he is superintendent. This gradual growth in the development of care for children has come through the teachings of Christianity. The many friends in this place of Mrs. Russell of Harrisburg, who has been coming to Towanda for several years in the interest of the work, will learn with deep regret that she is very ill and will probably never be able again to travel in the grand work in which she was so earnestly and successfully engaged.

To Grow Orris Root.

An experiment in growing orris root is to be made near Binghamton next year, which, if successful, is expected to add a new paying industry for the farmers of Broome county. Orris root, when dried and powdered, forms the basis of nearly all sachet powders, tooth powders and dry perfumes upon the market. Most of it is grown near Florence, Italy, where its cultivation and preparation for market has been carried on for many years. The importance of the root to this country amounts to about $2,000,000 annually. It has been successfully grown in Piedmont country, at the foot of Blue Ridge mountains in Virginia.

Wysox Day.

The next regular meeting of the Bradford County Historical society, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26, has been set apart as Wysox Day, at which time the many interesting features and history of the pioneer families of Wysox will be given in short addresses by a number of persons, with general interchange of remininiscences. The exercises will be interspersed with music. Persons having relics, documents or curios associated with the history of Wysox, are earnestly requested to loan and bring the same for exhibition during the occasion. An especial invitation is extended to citizens of Wysox and all descendants of her pioneer families.

FALL MEETING OF COUNTY EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

Interesting Session Held at Troy on Friday and Saturday Last.

The regular meeting of the Bradford County Educational association was held at Troy on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 11 and 12.

The evening session was held at the court house. The Troy Cornet band gave three selections, after which Rev. Dr. M. S. Godshall of the M. E. church, of Waverly, N. Y., gave his lecture, entitled "Diamond Dust."

The Saturday morning session was held at the high school, being opened with music under the leadership of Jno. K. Stewart of Towanda. The first address was "The Need of Better Teaching in Reading" by E. A. Bingham, of Troy.

The High school pupil has no conception of reading. This may be because of the overcrowding of the school curriculum. In some schools it may be due to a lack of proper teaching. A primary pupil already has a vocabulary. Reading is not made interesting to him. The analytic method seems the best. Teach the diacritical marks, the meaning of words, the use of the dictionary. Insist upon proper articulation and enunciation. When a pupil can read and understand, he can read with expression.

Discussed by Mrs. Humphries, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Humphries, Miss Fanning, Miss Shannon, Mr. Dennison, Mr. Barbour, Mr. Pomeroy.

Officers For the Year.

The following officers were elected for the year 1904-05; President, H. S. Putnam; vice president, J. H. Humphries; secretary-treasurer, Helen M. Rickey; Exec. Com., Elizabeth Shannon, R. B. Allen, W. C. Barbour, Clara Curtiss, F. W. Gorham.

The first paper of the afternoon session was "Teacher or Text-book—Which?" by Miss Saxton of Granville Center.

Interest in the teacher begets interest in the pupils. One whose eyes are kept on the text book loses the attentive interest of the pupil. Each lesson should be prepared that it may be presented to the class in an interesting and instructive manner.

Discussed by Misses Rockwell, Lynch, Randall, Sayles and Messrs. Gerould, Stacy, Gorham, Barbour, Stewart, Dennison.

Rev. E. P. Morse then spoke upon "The Intellectual Life of the Teacher."

"Whatever of scholarly ambition you wish to realize in your pupils you must have in your own life. There should be purity of speech, good personal appearance, courtesy of manners on the part of the teacher. The intellectual life should be supplied with nourishment, and requires intellectual food. Beware of the dead line. Intellectual fervor and freshness should be preserved by a change of work. A board intellectual life is needed to correct the one-sidedness due to professionalism. A liberal culture can be had by the judicious use of a journal of current events.

Miss Long then gave a musical recitation.

Many Interesting Papers.

"How to Keep Pupils in the High School" was taken up by J. H. Humphries.

Invite and urge strenuously a longer term. Parents should send their children regularly to school. Children should not be held so closely to grade lines. Greater choice should be given in the High school subjects. Abolish promotions by the examination.

Discussed by Messrs. Putnam, Pomeroy and Stewart.

The next paper was "The Relation of Biography to History in the Intermediate Grades," by Miss Black of Canton.

We should give life and reality to history. Historical facts should be taught by stories of the lives of great men. A series of biographical sketches in chronological order is much help in teaching history.

"The Use of Current Events in Connection With the Course of Study," was discussed by Mr. Woodward. A ten minute recitation period had been devoted to this subject by the speaker. A table was prepared for papers, etc. Later topics were assigned. Quotations were given showing the yield of wheat. Connection was traced between this yield and the exports and the increase of manufactures. Harvest bears relation to railways. Information along this line lends much interest to geography and civics.

The bills were ordered paid. Messrs. Barbour and Gorham were appointed an auditing committee. Adjourned at 3:30. Helen M. Rickey, Sec.

THE LEHIGH VALLEY.

The Shortage of Box Cars Is Becoming Serious.

Lehigh Valley's shortage of box cars is becoming serious. The company has been short of cars for several weeks, but expected the shortage would prove only temporary. The demand for cars is large, both on and off the line, and just now more cars are off the line than usual.

Through traffic has been light for some time, but is increasing. Local traffic continues very heavy. Coal shipments are now heavy and will probably continue so for some time. Live stock and agricultural products are lighter in volume than a month ago, but manufactured products show a large increase. Lehigh Valley officials anticipate a considerable increase in general business in the near future.
